

Good Readers visit to National Book Trust

“The journey of a lifetime starts with the turning of a page”

Rachel Anders

The joy of reading can only be felt and not described. Reading opens up new avenues, takes us into the world of imagination and leads us on to the path of becoming an intellectual thinker. To nurture this love for reading, the ‘Good Readers’ of class V were taken on a literary visit to the National Book Trust of India on 3rd February 2017.

Children were apprised of the diverse selection of books available at National Book Trust library and were given the opportunity to browse through the ‘labyrinth of literature’. The Students had an interactive session with Mr Divijendra Kumar, Editor of the Reader’s Club who emphasised on the importance of reading and encouraged the students to write poems and articles.

The visit was an extremely exciting and enriching experience for the well-read children who were simply delighted to get such an opportunity. They also selected few books for themselves.