

GRATITUDE TOWARDS ENVIRONMENT-VIDEO SCREENING

‘EDUCATING THE MIND WITHOUT EDUCATING THE HEART IS NO EDUCATION AT ALL’

-Aristotle

Experiencing the very essence of nature and feeling its beauty was the quintessence of a lovely Saturday morning

To teach the next generation about taking care of the planet and to mobilize them to be lifelong environmentalists, few videos were shown to the students of Class V. It was an endeavor to sensitize them to express their ‘Gratitude to Environment’. It is important for them to understand that without the gifts of nature – water, air, raw materials, food, ecosystem services – human beings would cease to exist. “Nature doesn’t need people. People need nature.” A culture that lives in harmony with its environment has a much better chance of flourishing than a culture that destroys its environment. A good place to start is by cultivating an ethic of gratitude.

These environmental videos made the students think! Think about the various reasons to be grateful to nature and adopt methods of sustainability and be environment stewards.
