

Book Week Report

16th November -21st November 2015

Junior School

Delhi Public School, Gurgaon celebrated Book Week - a week packed with a plethora of literary activities to encourage reading and writing among students.

It is a known fact that books are a treasure of deep knowledge. Reading books make us wise, and knowledgeable. The pleasure of reading also inspires us to lead a successful life. To promote this idea, Scholastic Pvt India Ltd organized a Book Fair during this week. DEAR (Drop Everything And Read) was also observed wherein the entire Junior School was asked to drop their work and switch to the reading mode.

The students were engaged in various interesting activities and competitions related to books and reading which were conducted throughout the week such as bookmark making, designing book covers, poster /collage making, making artifacts on favourite story characters and many more. Students showcased their creativity and talent through these activities.

The Principal Ms Aditi Misra and Headmistress of the Junior School, Ms. Laveena Hemrajani appreciated the creativity and hardwork of the students that rendered the Book Week successful and thoroughly enjoyable.
