

REPORT ON CLASS VI ASSEMBLY

READ TO LEAD

There is more treasure in books than in all the pirate's loot on Treasure Island.
- Walt Disney

Reading books has long been treasured as a source of thrill for individuals. Beyond mere amusement, the act of reading enhances learning, ingenuity and broadens perspectives. Students of class VI A enthusiastically participated in the assembly based on the topic "Read to Lead" on Monday, April 8, 2024. The assembly not only exhibited the fact that reading was a source of learning, but how it prepares us for the years ahead.

The assembly began with a prayer and an energising thought followed by news to keep everyone informed. Students enthusiastically recited a poem and showcased how books can be thought-provoking and captivating. By the end, there was a palpable energy, with many students feeling inspired to delve deeper into the world of reading. Head council members, Amish Chaudhary and Adwika Tuli guided class VI students on the topic "Read to Lead." Headmistress, Middle school Ms. Shaifali Bhatt highlighted the significance of reading in the students new academic journey.

Overall, the assembly was deeply moving and engaging. It captivated the students to engage themselves into reading and to develop a deeper understanding as to how reading is essential for us. The assembly was extremely helpful in inspiring the students to read.
