

Teacher training programme in Paris

Alisha Jain received a scholarship from the Institut Français en Inde to attend a teacher training programme at the Alliance Française de Paris Île-de-France from 10th June to 21st June, 2024. Fourteen teachers from various schools and universities across India were selected for this programme, which included modules designed to enhance pedagogical skills, observe the classroom practices of expert trainers, and facilitate the exchange of ideas on key issues and best practices among peers.

The training sessions were conducted by experienced educators from the Alliance Française de Paris, who emphasised techniques that foster a more structured and interactive learning environment, thereby enhancing student engagement and comprehension.

Cultural visits, including a tour of Montmartre, the Opéra Garnier, and the Cité Internationale de la Langue Française, were highlights of the programme. These excursions provided us with a deep understanding of French culture and lifestyle.

The training at Alliance Française de Paris Île-de-France proved to be a valuable experience, offering a comprehensive perspective on teaching and learning, expanding our professional networks, and immersing us in a rich cultural environment.

Overall, it was an enriching learning experience.
