

Compassion is the source of all lasting happiness and joy

Delhi Public School, Sec 45, Gurgaon celebrated Annual Carnival with the children of a national NGO working in the field of Childhood Cancer care. Every year the school hosts these children who are undergoing treatments in the hospitals of NCR, to enjoy a day filled with fun and frolic.

The students of class XI created a festive and joyous video for these children. The video was made with the idea of lighting up the faces of these young warriors who are fighting the disease, with smiles, brightening their day and wishing them a speedy recovery.

The video began with a message from school director principal, Aditi Misra, who wished the children and lauded their strength and resilience. She prayed for their recovery and gave them her blessings. The school students showcased a story with the help of music, dance and theatre. The engaging plot revolved around the theme of Christmas, with protagonists like Santa Claus and children's favourite cartoon and movie characters- Nobita, Shinchan, Chota Bheem and Gabbar, singing and dancing to Bollywood songs.

The video ended with carols and a message, 'Aao sab milkar, haath badhaye, ek hassi pyari si, hazaro tak pahuchayen', by the leadership team of the school.
