

Delhi Public School, Gurugram, celebrates 20 years of its inception with enthusiasm

The event mainly focussed on the school's incredible journey of two decades

Delhi Public School (DPS), Sector 45, Gurugram, celebrated 20 years of its inception with all enthusiasm.

Institute's patron Ravi Jaipuria and pro-vice chairperson Devyani Jaipuria graced the occasion with their presence.

The celebration commenced with the choir singing the school anthem filling every heart with pride. The cultural presentation saw a soulful rendition of 'Sonari Dharti' in praise of the beauty of cultural diversity.

It was followed by a beautiful dance performance titled 'Panchttava: The Essence of Life'.

School director-principal Aditi Misra thanked the patrons for their support in this incredible journey of two decades. While welcoming Devyani, Misra said that under the vice-pro chairperson's leadership the school will achieve greater heights. She also lauded the stakeholders of the school community for their constant support and resilience.

Ravi in his address fondly reminisced the first day of the school when the foundation stone was laid. He said that the right to education is imperative for a progressive society. He also shared his dream of multiplying the number of children getting quality education in Shiksha Kendra from 1600 to 6000.

The patron released a flip book titled 'Grandma's Recipes', an international initiative of the school in collaboration with 'Reconnecting With Your Culture' to promote the quality education objectives of the UN 2030 Agenda. Thirteen schools across India collaborated for the same.

The celebration culminated with a vote of thanks proposed by the students of the Head Student Council, who promised to be well informed and responsible leaders to carry forward the spirit of selfless service.
