

MINI PTM REPORT – Class V

‘Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for it today.’

The Junior Wing of Delhi Public School, Gurgaon, organised a Mini PTM for students of Class V on 7th August 2025. It gave parents and teachers a chance to come together and witness the conceptual development and academic growth of the students. The event began with a lively welcome as the children joyfully greeted their parents and then presented an insightful show encompassing topics from General Science, Social Science, and Artificial Intelligence.

In General Science, the students presented an engaging and educational skit that illustrated the roles of the various human body parts. The performance was a part of their science curriculum and aimed to teach students about the importance of different organs and systems in the body. The skit was performed with great teamwork, leaving the audience both entertained and informed. In Social Science, the students presented a skit on the importance of disaster management and sustainable development goals in today's world. The performance not only educated the audience but also inspired everyone to take responsibility in creating a sustainable and disaster-resilient future. The script moved ahead with the most significant topic – ‘AI in Our Daily Lives.’ The students showcased how Artificial Intelligence has significantly evolved over the past few years, streamlining tasks, enhancing experiences and often operating behind the scenes, making technology more intuitive and integrated into our lives.

The entire presentation was enriching for the students and the parents. The parents applauded the performances and appreciated the efforts put in by the students and the school towards the comprehensive development of their wards. The Mini PTM was a successful event, fostering a stronger connection between the school and the parents.
