

LESSER KNOWN MONUMENTS

In a creative endeavor to celebrate cultural heritage, students of class X undertook a Postcard Making Activity focused on lesser-known monuments. Through meticulous research, students delved into the historical, architectural, and cultural aspects of these hidden gems. Armed with insights, they skillfully translated their findings into visually captivating postcards, employing a range of artistic techniques. The activity not only honed their artistic skills but also kindled a sense of pride in their cultural legacy.

By sharing these postcards with peers, the initiative extended its impact beyond the classroom, fostering awareness and appreciation for the often-overlooked monuments. This activity exemplified a harmonious blend of education and creativity, effectively promoting cultural preservation and exploration among students.
