It was based on the '7 leadership levers to improve student learning'. It was designed to equip educators with practical strategies to enhance learning outcomes and ensure that students have the opportunity to achieve their full potential.

Mr Karthik spoke about several educational myths that persist in schools, often shaping teaching practices and learning environments. He reiterated that schools should have systems and sustainability-driven teams. One should prioritise resources like time, money, and materials to enhance student learning.

The session focused on both the theoretical foundations and practical applications of the leadership levers, providing participants with the tools to implement data-driven decision-making, foster collaborative school cultures, and develop instructional leadership within their schools. The workshop also emphasised the importance of aligning resources and building a shared vision to ensure that every student has the opportunity to achieve their full potential.

The participants actively participated in the Question-and-Answer round. The workshop marked an important step in fostering leadership that drives educational success, and the lessons learned will continue to shape the participants' approaches to enhancing a positive school culture.

The impactful initiative organised under the guidance of Ms. Aditi Misra created a power-packed insightful morning which would benefit the young learners.
