

VIRTUAL PTM REPORT
CLASSES III-V
SESSION (2021-22)

“Teaching and parenting is not about answering questions but about raising questions – opening doors for children in places that they could not imagine.”

The students have shown that change is never too difficult when everyone joins hands to fight with it to adapt and adjust. The performance of the children has been equally good in academics and extra-curricular activities inspite of all the challenges. Keeping the above in mind, a second virtual PTM was conducted for classes III-V from 16th August to 19th August 2021. All the parents were contacted by their ward’s class teacher over a WhatsApp video call. The teachers were able to convey and receive their feedback regarding the children.

The parents and teachers bonded with the sole intention of enhancing the performance of the students. On the virtual platform, they discussed developing a child’s future and work together to provide them with a brighter future. It helped the parents to know more about their child’s progress. At the same time, it also helped the teachers to understand and find ways to know students’ performance and their areas of improvement.

Connecting remotely, we have adapted very well to the new normal and have brought the virtual world in sync with the real one. When it comes to the future of our children there is no obstacle that can stop us. The PTM turned out to be of great help for the parents and teachers who did not want to miss out on the regular parent-teacher meetings. The inputs given by the teachers were well received and parents thanked the school and teachers for the continuous support in these unprecedented times.
